ABOUT ME

After spending almost 20 years as a family lawyer, I walked away from family law (well almost) with a fresh idea to establish a space where families could divorce with dignity, respect and outside of the court.

What followed has been an amazing ride. I now also speak, write and teach others about the amazing world of life outside the law and doing divorce differently.

When I am not in the office, I am a mum to 3 little people, who are full of love, sass and kindness. They keep our weekends busy and our hearts full.

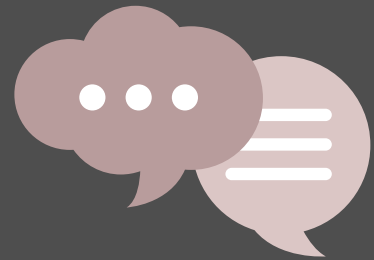

Family is everything and when I have a spare minute, I can be found baking, surfing, reading and wearing the odd bit of leopard print.
